

Northern Inland Transport Guide 2011

Northern
Inland

- how to use trains, buses, coaches and taxis
- how to get to universities, TAFE, colleges and hospitals
- how to get to airports and where to park
- information on fares and tickets
- detailed public transport network maps
- indexes to suburbs and localities
- access guide for the University of New England
- transport facilities at major centres
- late night transport options
- community transport

How to use this guide

This Guide tells you about the trains, buses, coaches and taxis that you can use to travel in the Northern Inland Region. It also includes some advice on walking and cycling and the benefits of using public transport.

- Use the map index on page 3 (opposite) to find the map that covers the area where you want to travel.
- Browse through the information on how to travel on public transport, community transport, walking, cycling and benefits of public transport on pages 26-31.
- For detailed information about railway stations, bus routes, interchange locations, pathways and accessible transport, fares and concessions, consult pages 12-25.
- On pages 42-55 of the guide, there are maps showing the transport links between regional centres.
- For detailed information about transport in major towns in the region, consult the maps on pages 56-83.
- If you need to know about Late Night Transport, how to get to the University, Institute TAFE, Hospitals, and regional centres, read the information on pages 32-40.
- For contact details for all transport operators and for a list of all bus routes, refer to pages 16-18 and 84-91.
